TEACHER IN RESIDENCE

The Teacher in Residence position is a mentored one-year faculty appointment in the Education Department at Westfield State College. Requirements include Massachusetts teacher certification, a Master’s degree with a minimum of four years of elementary school experience, and a current full-time teaching position in a Massachusetts public school. Responsibilities for the position include teaching courses in Education, participation in the Education department’s Professional Development School Network, implementation of workshops for the college learning community, and supervision of student teachers. The Teacher in Residence takes a leave of absence while teaching at Westfield State College. Salary is based on current placement on the salary scale of the sponsoring school system. All benefits are maintained including retirement accrual. Women, persons of color, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Applications will be accepted beginning January, 2010. Please send a letter of application, resume with graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation to:

Dr. Sandra Berkowitz
Education Department Interim Chair
Westfield State College
Westfield, MA 01086-1630

An Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer

Revised 01/07/10