

COMM 0222-Intercultural Communication (Online)

Fulfills core requirement for Global Diversity (GDIV)

Instructor: Prof. Shirley Acquah

Course Description

In this course, students will analyze intercultural communication concepts such as cultural and ethnic diversity, ethnocentrism, stereotypes, and how to develop intercultural competence for the workplace.

Learning Objectives

- Demonstrate an understanding of how culture influences the communication process
- Apply theory, research, and personal experience in the analysis and understanding of intercultural communication concepts
- Understand the communicative aspect of cultural diversity and how to harness these concepts to promote individual competency
- Critically evaluate and discuss current trends about intercultural communication

Text/course materials

- Reading and supplemental course materials will be upload on PLATO

Course Requirements

- Complete assigned readings
- Submit assignments
- Participate in discussion forums
- Watch and critique videos